The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 are federal anti-discrimination statutes that provide comprehensive civil rights for persons with disabilities. LIT provides reasonable accommodations as defined in the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Section 504 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, to students with a diagnosed disability. The Special Populations Office is located in the Eagles' Nest Room 129 and helps foster a supportive and inclusive educational environment by maintaining partnerships with faculty and staff, as well as promoting awareness among all members of the Lamar Institute of Technology community. Faculty members record student attendance, raise flags and kudos to express concern or give praise, and you can make an appointment with faculty and staff all through the Starfish home page. You can also login to Blackboard or MyLIT and click on the Starfish link to view academic alerts and detailed information. It is the responsibility of the student to pay attention to these emails and information in Starfish and consider taking the recommended actions. Starfish is used to help you be a successful student at LIT.

ADDITIONAL COURSE POLICIES/INFORMATION

Netiquette: All students in the class are required to contribute to an environment of learning and open inquiry in the class. Students are expected to interact with classmates and the instructor in a respectful tone. Formal academic language is expected for all course assignments. Do not use ALL CAPS, do not use "text message language", etc.

Technology Policy: Microsoft software must be used to complete all assignments (MS Word, MS Excel, MS PowerPoint). MS Works and .pages files are not permitted. All assignments must be submitted online via the provided submission area link, or posted on the appropriate discussion board or blog forum.

Plagiarism and Academic Honesty

Academic integrity is a fundamental value of this course and of our institution. It is essential that students maintain the highest ethical standards in their academic work to ensure fairness, honesty, and trustworthiness in the pursuit of knowledge. Academic integrity requires students to do their own work and to give credit to others when using their ideas, words, or images. Violations of academic integrity are not tolerated and can result in severe consequences.

Any assignment with evidence of academic dishonesty will receive a 0 and be reported to the administration.

Academic integrity violations include, but are not limited to:

1. Plagiarism: This includes the use of another's work without proper citation or attribution, whether it be published or unpublished material, print or digital, including but not limited to copying and pasting text from the internet, using another student's work, or using any other source without proper citation.
2. Cheating: This includes the use of unauthorized materials, devices, or resources during an exam, quiz, or other assessment, or the giving or receiving of unauthorized assistance to or from another person.
3. Collusion: This includes the unauthorized collaboration with other students or individuals in academic work, including sharing answers, login credentials or work.
4. AI-generated text (ChatGPT and the like): This includes the use of AI-generated text in any assignment or assessment. It is not permitted to submit work that has been generated by AI, as it is not your own work and violates the principles of academic integrity.

APA or MLA Format

All written assignments must have an APA or MLA style references section and parenthetical references. Failure to cite properly will result in a loss of points. It is your responsibility to be able to use APA or MLA style correctly.

Late Work Policy: Late work is accepted with decreased credit.

Written assignments posted after the due date deadline will be reduced by 10% per day for every day the assignment is late. No assignments are accepted after the last day of class.

Extensions may be granted on a case-by-case basis for documented emergency situations. Extensions are not granted for busy work schedules, technology issues, or other unforeseen issues, so students are encouraged to work ahead as much as possible to avoid last minute issues that can interfere with submitting assignments on time.
