Handbook

Introduction

The increasing number of online programs and courses requires policies, procedures and guidelines to maintain quality of online pedagogy and processes. The target audience for this guide is online instructors and provides protocol for teaching online.

Policies

Distance Learning pedagogy and processes may vary from face-to-face practices. LIT employees who choose to teach an online section must comply with the Distance Learning Instructor Handbook. Employees who do not comply with this handbook will not be allowed to teach an online section.

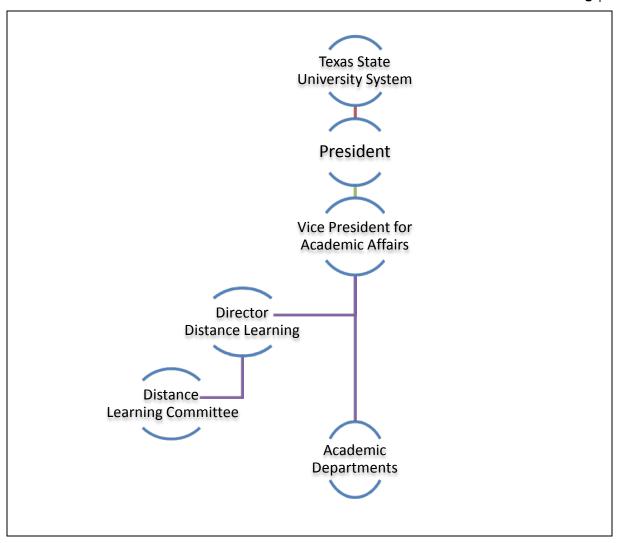

Accreditation

Lamar Institute of Technology (LIT) received approval in 2010 and 2011 from the Southern Association of Colleges (SACs) to offer several programs online.

This increase in online courses/programs mandates the need for a set of LIT guidelines documenting standards and protocol for students and instructors engaged in online learning. The Distance Learning Instructor Handbook documents guidelines to meet SACs commitments, provides information for new online instructors, and supplies a guide for reporting policy and procedure expectations.

Distance Learning Structure

The following organization chart identifies those individuals and offices responsible for the oversight of the Lamar Institute of Technology Distance Learning mission statement.

See the Distance Learning Committee Charter, page 14

Instructor Requirements

Faculty who teach online courses must have the academic credentials and experiences relevant to the courses taught in their respective programs. The minimum academic credentials and experiences are dependent on the course(s) being taught. Online instructors must meet the same minimum requirements as face-to-face instructors.

Faculty who teach online courses at LIT, however, must complete additional credentials before teaching online courses. Each online instructor must complete the LIT Distance Learning Online Instructor Certification Program and continue to complete a minimum of four (4) relevant distance education professional development hours annually. Instructors designing and developing an online course must also complete the LIT Distance Learning Online Developer Certification Program. See LIT Faculty Training Program, page 15.

Topics in the program include Orientation to LIT Distance Education, Introduction to BlackboardTM, Introduction to Learning Theory and Instructional Design Principles,

Introduction to PanoptoTM, Online Resources, Advanced BlackboardTM, RespondusTM and Lockdown BrowserTM, Good Test Writing Principles, and Video Recording and Editing. The Online Developer Certification Program includes the final step of coordinating a review and approval by two certified online developers with approval by the Office of Distance Learning and the VP of Academic Affairs per the LIT Online Course Quality Checklist. See Course Design & Review, page 9.

Each instructor is required to sign an Online Instructor Agreement form that addresses ownership of materials and expectations for online instructors. See Online Instructor Agreement Form, page 16.

Faculty and adjunct instructor evaluations contain subsections dedicated to online teaching. See Faculty Evaluation (page 17) and Adjunct Faculty Evaluation (page 18).

Course Requirements

Introduction

Prior to admitting an online offering into the LIT Class Schedule and the LIT Catalog & Student Handbook, the request must be approved by the Curriculum Review Team and the President's Council. Request approvals are stored within the Office of Academic Affairs. See Detailed Request Process, page 20.

It is recommended that the course be taught first as a hybrid and then as a fully online section. Prior to being taught as a fully online section, the design of the course must be reviewed by two instructors, approved by the Office of Distance Learning, and approved by the VP of Academic Affairs. The Course Approval Form is stored in the course's associated Program Binder and supporting documentation is stored in the Office of Distance Learning. See Detailed Course Design Review & Approval Process, page 21.

Students are given the opportunity to evaluate every course at LIT, including online courses. Two surveys exist: Student Rating of Teaching Effectiveness and Online Course Additional Survey Questions. Online courses utilize both evaluations. Survey information is analyzed and summarized by the Coordinator of Institutional Effectiveness and Grants separately and within the overall institution evaluation results. The Online Course Additional Survey Questions are utilized for the instructor evaluation and the course design/instruction periodic review. See Online Course Additional Survey Questions, page 37.

The objectives in the syllabus must include the associated Workforce Education Course Manual (WECM) or Academic Course Guide Manual (ACGM) objectives. Any deviation from this must be approved by the Curriculum Review Team with the exception of the addition of objectives approved by the Program Director/Coordinator and/or Department Chair. See sample Online Syllabus, page 23.

Course Design & Review

LIT Online courses must meet the requirements specified on the Online Course Quality Checklist, page 30. The LIT Online Course Quality Checklist consists of the following sections:

- Overall Course Design The overall course design is segmented for cognitive learning and contains essential elements for an effective online course.
- Course Orientation The course orientation helps the students familiarize themselves with the learning environment and sets the stage for social, cognitive and teacher presence.
- Course Content The course content aligns with the course objectives, meets various learning styles, engages the students and uses technology accessible by all online students.
- Instructional Design Alignment Based on Mager's theory and Bloom's Taxonomy, objectives must align with course content and the appropriate level of assessment. See the Alignment Grid and Blooms Taxonomy Diagram, page 34.

Two peer reviews are completed with an additional approval by the Office of Distance Learning and the VP of Academic Affairs.

Assessments

Lamar Institute of Technology takes academic integrity seriously. Cheating is not tolerated! For further information, reference the Lamar Institute of Technology Policies and Procedures Manual (Policy 2.2.1) and the Lamar Institute of Technology Catalog & Student Handbook (Academic Dishonesty).

Course design considerations are necessary to maintain academic integrity. Recommendations include: varying the assessment method, maximizing the usage of technology settings, and proctoring exams. See the Testing Online Proctoring Form, page 48.

The LIT Testing Center provides proctoring services free to online students within online sections. Proctoring services for online courses must be approved by the Office of Distance Learning prior to the start of the semester by submitting the Testing Center Services Part A form. See the Faculty Request for Testing Services Part A, page 49. Instructors must provide the following information to the LIT testing center to utilize its services:

- Cell Phone Number (if available)
- Office Phone Number
- Email
- Class Roster
- Test Password
- If applicable, Selective Release Criteria

- Special Instructions
- Alternate method of exam delivery (paper/pencil)

To use the testing center, the instructor needs to submit the Faculty Request for Testing Center Services Part B form a minimum of two weeks prior to the test availability dates. See the Faculty Request for Testing Center Services (Part B) Faculty Request for Testing Center Services (Part B), page 50. To use an alternative certified testing center, the student needs to complete the Online Proctoring Form (page 48), submit it to the alternate testing center and communicate with the instructor a minimum of two weeks prior to the due date for the exam.

Student Requirements

Online students must meet the same campus/program requirements and will receive the same degree as on campus students. Prior to registering for an online course, students should take the "Is Distance Learning Right for Me" orientation / assessment located on the LIT Website under Distance Education, Orientation for Online Courses. When registering for courses, students are notified that if they register for an online course they may accrue additional fees. Students taking online courses are charged an additional technology fee. Students taking only online courses may request reimbursement for the Student Center Fee, Health Center Fee, and the Recreational Sports Center Fee through the Cashier's Office. Possible additional fees and requirements unique to an online course are specified in the syllabus for the online section.

Other

Online Academic Advising

LIT recognizes that online students have unique challenges. LIT has online academic advisors dedicated to assisting online students. The online academic advisor serves as a single point of contact for answering questions and providing student support. Students who would like to talk with an online academic advisor should email: online.advisor@lit.edu.

Early Alert Process

Instructors should contact, through an alternative method, students who have not logged into the course by one day after the last day of registration

Tools are available to alert instructors of at-risk-students. Blackboard's alert module displays student names who are missing due dates, and custom alerts may be created by the instructor. A possible custom alert may include: > 5 days since last logged into the class.

Technology Guidelines

LMS Usage

Lamar Institute of Technology utilizes one Learning Management System (LMS) as the entry point for fully online, hybrid and web-enhanced courses. The Distance Learning Committee selects and recommends the campus wide LMS.

If an additional site/tool outside of the campus LMS is used, the following items must be available in the campus LMS:

- Syllabus & Office Hours
- Course content and/or link to external content

Additional preferred items to keep within BlackboardTM:

- Grade Book, if not all grades, include major grades
- Messages
- Discussion Threads

If the predominate structure of the course is being offered through another Learning Management System (LMS), the course must still follow the Online Course Overall Request, Review and Approval Process. See the Overall Process, page 19.

Lamar Institute of Technology uses the Campus Learning Management System (LMS), Blackboard for web enhanced, hybrid and fully online courses. This protocol applies to all courses.

LMS Course Retention

Lamar Institute of Technology will retain Blackboard detailed course materials in the active LMS instance for one full year plus one long semester. For example: courses offered in the Fall of 2011 will be deleted from Blackboard at the end of the Spring of 2013 term. If it is necessary to restore a course, this can be done by contacting the LIT Blackboard Support point of contact who will then request the restore from the Blackboard vendor.

Upon the completion of each semester, the courses for that completed semester will be made unavailable to the student. The instructor will still have access and may opt to make the course(s) available again to students.

LMS Roster Loading

Lamar Institute of Technology - Technology Services will load students from the Student Information System (Banner) to the Campus LMS. The load schedule will be requested through the helpdesk from the Office of Distance Learning when schedule building is complete. Load dates will be provided within the help desk request.

Classes, no students, will be loaded promptly after the completion of schedule building. Instructors must set up their courses by starting fresh or by copying from a master course or previous semester course. Classes added to Banner after the completion of schedule building, will be built within Blackboard after receiving a helpdesk request from the department chair, or departmental administrative assistant.

Students will be loaded, at a minimum, once a day starting three days prior to the start of the semester until the official last day of registration. Fully online instructors must make their courses available for students three days prior to the start of the semester.

LMS Class Roster

Instructors must reconcile their Blackboard User list with the Banner Roster published on the census date. The Academic Calendar contains the specific census date and is defined as shown below. Banner contains the official roster.

Full Term	Weeks	Census Day
Fall, Spring	16	12 th class day
Summer I	6	4 th class day
Summer II	6	4 th class day
Summer III	6	4 th class day

Part of Term	Weeks	Census Day
Fall Late START	12	9 th class day
Fall First 8-week	8	6 th class day
Fall Second 8-week	8	6 th class day

The following is the required action:

- Students on the official roster and not in the Blackboard Course: The instructor will add the students to the Blackboard course.
- Students in the Blackboard Course and not on the official roster: The instructor will attempt to contact the student and will DENY the student access to Blackboard (NOT delete the student from Blackboard).

Periodic Review Sample Minutes

Three Year Periodic Review DORI 0200 November 13, 2013

The meeting was called to order at 1:00 pm in TC 114 Distance Learning Lab on November 13, 2013.

Initial Approval Date: 12/14/2012 Course Reviewed: DORI 0200

Members Present

Robin Lisk Director – Distance Education

Jason Woodall Instructional Designer – Distance Education

Michelle Davis Department Chair - GEDS

DORI Coordinator Leigh Smith

Agenda Items

1. Goals of the Meeting (presented by Robin Lisk)

Review the course materials and the items listed below, reviewing the course not the instructor.

Maintain review data / feedback confidentiality

2. Reviewed Student Survey Results:

See Attachment A, page:

The overall survey data is outstanding! The reviewers discussed the items that were below 80%. SRTE (4): The course is general interesting

The following are group comments:

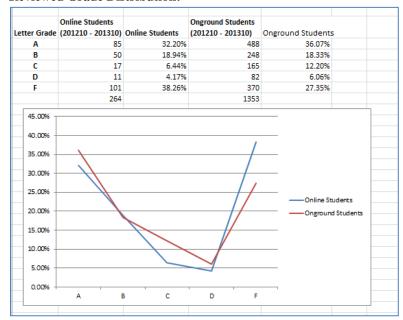

- Adding interesting discussion threads to the class.
- The instructors should make an announcement at least every two weeks.
- Good use of online office hours.

Michelle will follow up with the instructors on the above suggestions.

SRTE (18) The Instructor is reliable in meeting the class

One section scored significantly pulled down the survey results. The general consensus was that this score is low in the one section because it was a section d that was added at the last minute, or the wording of the question is odd for online courses. The more relevant question is SRTE (16): The Instructor is available for help and advice. The Overall rating was 96%, OUTSTANDING!.

Reviewed Grade Distribution:

The upside down bell curve and the higher number of "Fs" is the typical results for general education LIT courses. No concerns here. Good Job! Online sections and on ground sections have a similar grade distribution.

4. Syllabus on the LIT Website

The syllabi for all online sections are no longer on the LIT website (www.lit.edu). Michelle Davis is going to look into this and make a determination on if this requirement changed or if there was a mishap with the updated website. The syllabus used in the course is the correct syllabus.

5. Course File

The course file is complete and the minutes will be added to the file.

Instructor Presence in Class

Suggest the following to increase instructor presence and build more student community.

- Create more discussion threads
- Make an announcement at least every two weeks.

7. Reviewed Test Itemization Results:

Overall very good! Suggest removing the question related to meeting with a counselor since LIT does not have a counselor.

The meeting adjourned at 2:00 pm. Submitted by, Jason Woodall & Robin Lisk

Most Difficult

- Figuring out where assignments & test were located
- turning in my assignments on time and understanding some of the questions on the tests
- Making sure not to forget when things are due.
 - I had to move this semester and having to get a whole new isp was difficult on me. Being without internet was a pain and a little detrimental to my course.
- Remembering the dates for my deadlines.
- Receiving my financial aid late in the semester and having to buy my textbooks late for this reason, and then having to catch up in my classes because due dates had already passed.
- I think that at the beginning of the semester, due dates should be later due to financial aid not arriving on time, etc.

COMMENTS:

- Have a standard lay out for assignments & tests under course content
- Some of the material in the beginning with the orientation assignments was very hard to locate and was not all in the same area as the rest of the assignments. I think making the assignments all in the same area and making the assignment due dates a little easier to locate would be very beneficial to the course.
- I believe this class could be more beneficial if it was geared a little more towards Returning Adult Students. After being out of school for more than 20 years, I need more info on how to better navigate thru getting around a college paperwork and requirements. Not really interested in student clubs or organizations at this age.
